ii. The Organiser does not assume any liability for damages to health and/or property incurred by visitors through the fault of another visitor, whether this is the result of intentional or unintentional behaviour. Damages may only be claimed directly against the person and/or persons who caused the specific damages by his/their actions.
iii. Items stored outside the areas designated for this purpose by the Operator may be removed by the Operator for security reasons and will be disposed of by the Operator in compliance with the generally valid legal regulations.
iv. In the event that visitors to the Event Venue find any suspicious items, or items that may endanger the property, lives and/or health of third parties, they are required to immediately inform the Operator, the persons authorised by the Operator or the security service. Every visitor is liable to the Operator and/or any third party for damages incurred as a result of breach of the rules contained in these Visitors' Rules and/or other binding legal regulations.
v. The Operator is authorised to demand that visitors surrender items, which were used to cause injury and/or damages to the Operator and/or any other third party.
vi. Visitors are required to inform the Operator and/or the security service of any injuries and/or any damages incurred at the Event Venue.
vii. In the event of evacuation of the Event Venue, or its part, or other extraordinary situations, visitors are required to follow the "Fire Emergency Guideline" and venue evacuation rules and follow the instructions of the Operator, the persons authorised by the Operator, the security service and/or integrated rescue system services. The fire emergency regulations are appended to these Visitors' Rules.

G. Other provisions

i. By entering the Event Venue visitors agree, without further notification, to free use of their image or appearance as part of any video recording, broadcasting or production of the event held at the Event Venue for commercial and/or promotional purposes, within the terms of portrayal of the entire event or its part at the Event Venue by the Organiser and/or its contractual partners.

ii. The visitor grants this consent to use of his image or appearance according to this provision, to the Organiser and its contractual partners for an unlimited period.

iii. Visitors to the event are also aware that sound and/or image recordings may be made at the Event Venue for the purpose of press, television or similar news reporting. For this purpose visitors to the event grant the Organiser or the persons authorised by the Promoter to make sound and/or image recordings for the purpose of press, radio, television or similar news reporting, within the meaning of Section 84 et seq. of Act No. 89/2012 Sb., Civil Code, as amended, their consent to record their appearance, images and make video and sound recordings, which concern the visitors or concern demonstrations of a personal nature, and agree to their unrestricted use and distribution, without any restrictions to the form, content and scope of use, without any regional restrictions and without any time limits. This consent is granted for an unlimited period.

H. Final provisions

i. The rules set out in these Visitors' Rules may be further supplemented by rules applying to individual events held at the Event Venue or its areas. Such supplementary rules shall always be appropriately published at the Event Venue and/or its areas, or be available from the Operator and/or the security service and visitors are required to adhere to them.
